Reds Say Spring Offensive to Be All Russian

Believe Nazis Are Worn Out in Fall Drive, Winter Counters

MOSCOW—(P)—Red Star, voice of the Soviet army, declared Friday that the offensive this spring would be Russian, not German and described the Nazi military machine as worn out from its costly fall drive and the battering it has received this winter.

Dispatches from the front said that the Germans were trying desperately to hold on, counter attacking repeatedly and at a heavy cost but that the Red army still pushed steadily, if slowly, to the west.

Reports from the southern front said Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's big Donets basin offensive instead of being halted by the counter attacks had wiped out two strong points and swept on into two unidentified towns where German bodies littered the streets after a fierce fight.

Elsewhere on the southern front Russian artillery was said to have broken up a counter attack.

Nazis on Defensive

BERLIN—(P)—The German high command reported Friday that its troops still were on the defensive and had defeated strong forces of the Red army in counter attacks in the Donets Basin.

Turneth Him Away, But No Soft Answer

AUSTIN, Tex.—(P)—A clergyman, seeking new tines, turned to the Scriptures for support. "Go ye into the world and preach the gospel," he quoted in a letter to Mark McGee, rationing administrator.

McGee turned to the Scriptures to support his refusal: "I will saddle me an ass."

Cranium Crackers

River Lore
Rivers played an important part in the development of the United States so you should not ground on any of these mental sandbars.

1. Does the Kentucky river flow through Kentucky, the Mississippi through Mississippi and the Colorado through Colorado?
2. What river valley was the scene of "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow" and many other Washington Irving stories?
3. The Connecticut river forms the boundary between what two states?
4. What famous New Deal project is on the Tennessee river?
5. Name the river followed by Lewis and Clark on much of their expedition to the northwest.

President Says Wage Control Is Considered

Asserts He Will 'Step on' Political Moves in His Cabinet

WASHINGTON—(P)—The question of wage control as a war measure is under study President Roosevelt asserted Friday.

The chief executive declined at a press conference to go into the question of putting a ceiling on wages as an anti-inflation step but he did disclose that the whole problem was under consideration.

Whether any progress was being made on controlling inflation Mr. Roosevelt said:

"In some ways yes and in some ways no." He placed the action of the house in voting to ban sales of government owned surplus products at below parity prices in the category of those things on what he termed the no side.

Changing the subject he said that "this is a war and politics is out."

He said his remarks applied to congress as well as the press.

"We read too much politics in the papers these days and these articles talk in terms of the past," he commented.

To a question asked whether his remarks were also of the cabinet he said that he found little political indications in any action by cabinet members.

He said whenever he say any such implications he would step on it with both feet.

RAF Blasts Big Nazi Battleship

Installations at Kiel Naval Base Set Afire

LONDON—(P)—The RAF bombed the 26,000-ton German battleship Gneisenau and set naval installations on fire at the Kiel base in continuation of Thursday night of the "great spring air offensive" begun last week-end.

The air ministry said Friday that improved flying conditions enabled a medium force of four and two engine bombers to strike at northwestern Germany.

The loss of 8 RAF planes during the latest raid on Kiel was attributed by air ministry sources to strong German anti-aircraft defenses ringing the Kiel base.

German light fighters engaged the British planes during the attack.

At Berlin the Nazi high command announced that British bombers attacked Kiel, site of a big German naval base during the night, causing some casualties.

Five Bicycles Stolen in Hope

One Recovered, Search for Others Continues

Police announced Friday that five bicycles had been stolen in Hope the past five nights and warned owners to be careful where they left their bikes.

Of the five stolen only one, owned by Jess Merchant and stolen last Sunday, has been recovered. No arrests were made but a search continues.

Other bicycles stolen were owned by Marion Baker, Charles Thomas, Jr., Ray Allen and John L. Austin.

RAF Over Paris but Drop No Bombs

VICHY—(P)—The RAF was over the Paris area again Friday but there were no immediate reports that bombs were dropped.

(Reuters, British news agency, said no bombs were dropped in Paris during the alert.)

British army men call the German launch-torpedo boat an "E-boat," with the "E" meaning enemy.

Roosevelt May Veto Big Farm Supply Measure

Objects to Disposal of Government Stocks at Less Than Parity

WASHINGTON—(P)—High administration sources Friday said that President Roosevelt was considering veto of the $695,000,000 farm supply bill because it bands disposal of government controlled stocks of farm products at less than parity.

The president was beaten both in the senate and house on his pleas that the prohibitions be eliminated to help prevent a further drive in the cost of living. He was reported to believe that only by veto could he win his point.

The senate recently passed and sent to the house a simple bill containing the band. The house, which is still considering the bill, has refused to remove a clause to prohibit the commodity credit corporation from using administrative funds in connection with its sale below parity.

Deserters Kill FBI Agent

Another Wounded in Shooting Scrape in Virginia

ABINGTON, Va.—(P)—Two army deserters who threw shots and killed one FBI agent and wounded another seriously were captured in an abandoned house on the outskirts of this city Friday afternoon.

More than a hundred federal, state and local officers surrounded the house and a number of shots exchanged. The fugitive pair were captured only a few hours after an agent who sought to arrest them fell dead and his companion wounded under a hail of pistol fire which began in an all-night case.

Agent Hubert J. Treacy, Jr., 28 was shot to death and Charles L. Tignor, 29, was wounded five times. They were attempting to arrest two soldiers from Ft. Oglethorpe Ga.

The soldiers who blazed away as soon as the agents identified themselves had been sought since Thursday when they stole a supply of pistols and ammunition from the fort, kidnapped a tax driver and escaped into Tennessee.

Tells of Help Club Gave Him

Leo Flaherty, McCaskill, Describes Memphis Hospital

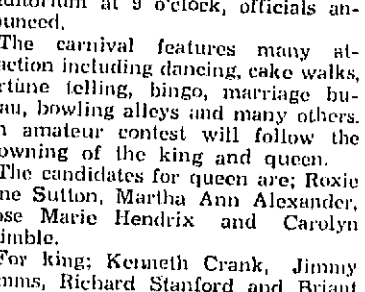

Leo Flaherty, young man of McCaskill who obtained treatment at the Memphis Hospital for Crippled Adults through the aid of Hope Rotary club, and thus cleared up a crippled condition in his feet, told the club about it in a speech at the Rotary luncheon Friday noon in First Christian church.

Introduced by Robert M. Wilson, program chairman, young Mr. Flaherty said he was admitted to the Memphis hospital, run in conjunction with the famous Campbell clinic at Memphis, June 2, 1940. He was sponsored by the Hope club.

"I was then walking on my ankles instead of my feet," he said. "After 11 operations I now walk normally. Hundreds of boys and girls come to the Memphis hospital each year from Mississippi, Tennessee and Arkansas and have their physical defects corrected—a relief that wouldn't be possible but for the Rotary club's support of the hospital."

Another club guest Friday was Walter Verbalen.

OPA Seeks Rail Rate Reduction

Says New Increases Would Disrupt Commodity Ceilings

NEW YORK—(P)—The Office of Price Administrator asked the nation's railroads to suspend approved freight rate increases on 10 large groups of commodities including petroleum and pig iron and gave notice it contemplated seeking cancellations of the entire rate increase.

Assistant Price Administrator Dexter M. Keizer who said he was authorized to speak for the OPA made the request in a speech prepared for a meeting of the railroad committee.

He said the increase would "completely disrupt" the scrap iron price ceiling and several other price controls.

The cruiser was identified as one of the 7,200-ton Leander class of ships, some ten years old.

2 Negroes Arrested on Liquor Charge

Two Prescott negroes, Alex Dixon and Dave Cooper, were arrested here Thursday by local police on a charge of possessing untaxed liquor. The two men were driving an old model automobile when picked up by officers. Three one gallon jugs of liquor were broken but police seized a pint and three half-pint bottles. They were turned over to county officers.

Aussies Report Enemy Ships in Solomon Islands

British Forces in Burma For First Time Make Contact With Chinese

By the Associated Press
Japan's offensive against Australia still, taking form in the islands along the northern shore of the continent, has spread off in a tangent of naval penetrations of the Solomon Islands.

In the second chief theater of the war with Japanese the British Imperials withdrawing north of Rangoon has for the first time joined Chinese troops attempting to consolidate a front between two main routes out of Rangoon, 60 to 80 miles from the abandoned port city of the Irrawaddy Delta.

Quiet in Philippines

In the Philippines the United States reported no change in the Bataan Peninsula situation, except watchful waiting for the next all-out Japanese attack on General Douglas MacArthur's forces.

Japan's Solomon Island move was evidently either a feint to distract attention from the establishment of New Guinea bases for the prospective lunge at Australia or actually a thrust to New Hebrides and New Zealand along the island chain pointed the United Nation sea route to Australia.

Discovered 3-Days Ago
The move was disclosed by the Australian air reconnaissance over the Australian mandated part of the Solomon group. The warship forces were sighted 3-days ago off Kessel on the tiny Buka island, a stepping stone from New Britain to the Solomons. There was no further indications that the Japanese had landed.

Australian bombers smashing at the potential island route toward New Britain Thursday attacked enemy-held airfields at Gasmata on the southern coast of New Britain.

Urged to Give Health Men Aid

Mosquito Campaign Starts in Hope This Week

Mosquitoes are not like the weather. Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody does anything about it. Everybody talks about mosquitoes, but nobody does anything about them. Somebody is the City of Hope, through its city council and Dr. Don Smith, city health officer. The city council has made an appropriation for a Mosquito Control Program. The program will be carried out by Eugene Cox, John Newberry and Walter Hardy. They will oil the ditches and streams, the standing pools of water, the sewer catch-basins, and any water that stands for at least seven days. They will put larvicide on fish ponds and stock ponds. They will make investigations upon request. They will make house-to-house inspections. In short, they will do everything they can to make this city healthy and free from the annoyance of mosquitoes.

But will everything they can do be enough? Can they be expected to keep Mrs. John Q. Taxpayer from being annoyed by mosquitoes hatched and grown right in her own house in, say, a jar in which she is growing a sweet potato vine? Or mosquitoes breeding in her flooded basement. Or mosquitoes breeding in water under her house from the ice box. The answer is no. But if Mrs. Taxpayer will see to it that no water stays undisturbed for five and will ask for an investigation of any mosquito annoyance, her troubles will be very small.

"Somebody does something about it" can be changed to "Somebody does everything about it" if "somebody" becomes everybody in town.

Get rid of tin cans, old barrels, buckets, tires, etc.

Drain all useless pools of water. Repair leaky plumbing and clear out stopped-up roof gutters.

Tell the mosquito officials about ornamental or fish ponds.

Ask these officials to investigate if mosquitoes become troublesome.

Never allow water to stand for more than five days.

If these instructions are followed "everybody does something about mosquitoes."

By the end of 1942, 15,000,000 workers will be engaged in war production as compared with 5,000,000 in December, 1941.

Nearly 3,000,000 defense workers have received vocational training in 1200 public vocational and trade schools, 155 colleges and universities, and 10,000 public school shops.

place into the sea and destroy themselves. Obviously, a lesson like this has difficulties for the scientific mind, and it is short-sighted or foolish not to recognize that.

But if this lesson offers difficulties from that angle, it is very clear and definite when we come to its moral and spiritual teaching. We have, first of all, the picture of Jesus, wearied greatly with His ministry and His contact with the multitude, entering into a boat, probably the fishing boat of Peter and his partners, and thrusting out from the land. The weary Master slept while a storm arose, fierce and furious, as the winds stirred up this shallow Sea of Galilee, striking terror into the hearts even of these fishing disciples who were accustomed to danger. Yet the Master slept peacefully until they aroused Him with the cry, "Save, Lord; we perish."

Realizing that (the Master was subject to the same fate, they might have displayed more hope and courage and faith. There was warrant, therefore, for the Master's rebuke, "Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith?" But the outstanding picture that is left in our minds is of Jesus calming the raging sea, and of the wonderment of the disciples, "What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him?"

The other story of the lesson, apart from the healing of the two men possessed with demons, presents a picture of that moral delinquency and hypocrisy so prevalent in life where self-interest and greed conflict with right principles. It is a story of swine, and we must remember that hogs were unclean and taboo in the Jewish religion. These Gadarenes, whose religion forbade them to eat hog flesh, were willing to raise swine for the profit they could make by sale to others. Moreover, they were far more concerned about these swine than they were about the restoration to sanity and health of two formerly afflicted brother-men.

What a picture of narrowness and sordidness in a "whole city" coming out to meet Jesus, the wonder worker, and the one pure and undefiled, and asking Him to depart out of their coasts because some hypocritical people had lost a herd of swine! And yet, how typical of unregenerate and selfish men in every age! This is the teaching and application of a difficult story.

Peanuts Prove Valuable Crop

Increased Production Approved by AAA Program

Further encouragement to farmers of Hempstead county to increase production of peanuts for oil has been given by an amendment to the Triple-A farm program, according to E. N. Martindale, chairman of the County Triple-A committee.

The amendment, Martindale said, is that acreage from which peanuts are harvested for oil purposes and followed by an approved cover crop next fall will qualify as a soil-conserving and erosion-resisting crop under the 1942 Agricultural Conservation program.

Under the change in the program peanuts for oil followed by an approved cover crop next fall will qualify. However, only half of the erosion-resisting acreage requirement may be met under the change.

One of the provisions of the 1942 Triple-A program is that cooperators must devote a minimum of 25 per cent of their farm's cropland to specified erosion-resisting and soil-conserving crops.

As an example, Mr. Martindale explained a farmer having 80 acres of cropland must have at least 20 acres devoted to approved soil-conserving or erosion-resisting crops. He may meet half of this requirement, or ten acres, by planting ten acres of peanuts for oil provided he follows the crop with an approved cover crop this fall. However, if the farmer plants more than ten acres of peanuts for oil followed by an approved cover crop this fall only 10 acres will count in meeting the requirement for soil-conserving acreage.

Hold-Over Senator Question Passed on

Butler's attorneys said they would appeal the decision immediately. Deadline for filing is April 29.

Piney Grove 4-H Club Holds Meet

Members Discuss Progress of Food-for-Victory Drive

Forty members of the Piney Grove 4-H Club met Monday, March 9, and reviewed the progress made in the "Food-for-Victory" Campaign. A report was given by Gladis Jones, president of the club on some of the responsibilities that had been assigned local club members in conducting the food production program.

An outstanding example of the 4-H Club's determination to contribute their best efforts in winning the war was evident from the report on accomplishments of the scrap iron collection campaign. Kenneth Calhoun, Donald Watterson, and Doris Dillard, were the three 4-H Club members elected on a committee to be responsible for collecting and selling the scrap iron. These three 4-H Club members have already collected 2000 pounds of scrap and expressed confidence that several times this amount would be placed in the channels of trade before the end of March.

Barney W. Chambers, Assistant County Agent, supervised a demonstration on the production of high quality hay. Mr. Chambers explained the increased need for the production of larger quantities of silage and green leafy legumes for hay.

Life Easterling, principal of Piney Grove School, is cooperating with the 4-H Club groups in arranging a 4-H Club school on the feed requirements necessary for maximum production of beef, pork, eggs and milk.

How Green Was My Valley' to Open at Saenger Here Sunday

Famous Novel Made Into the Picture of Year

Walter Pidgeon, Maureen O'Hara Co-Star in Super Drama

At long last the dramatization of Richard Llewellyn's best-selling novel, "How Green Was My Valley," is brought to the screen by 20th Century-Fox under the able, productive genius of Darryl F. Zanuck. Here is the film that has been eagerly awaited and from the accounts of preview audiences it promises to fulfill the expectations of the most discriminating motion picture fan.

The keynote of this production which is due to open Sunday at the Saenger is the fidelity of its portrayal to the novel of the same name. Laid against the colorful background of a Welsh mining village, "How Green Was My Valley" brings to life the dynamic characters who captivated the hearts of five million people who read the outstanding book.

Seen through the eyes of the youngest member of the family—Huw Morgan—"How Green Was My Valley" traces the threads of life of the Morgan family over a period of years—revealing their trials and loves, their joys and sorrows. It's the brave story of a family never conquered, not by armed men or hardship, hunger or hate—nor by the turbulent years that stole the greenness from their valley.

The featured cast is said to take abate command of the opportunity to knit together a story that demanded highly specialized dramatic ability. Walter Pidgeon, cast as Mr. Gruffydd, the minister, is said to cap his career with a splendid performance. Beauteous Maureen O'Hara portrays Angharad, the lovely Morgan daughter, who captivates the pastor. Anna Lee in the role of Bronwen is modest and lovable—the epitome of womanhood, while Donald Crisp as Gwilym Morgan, the father, is firm yet kind.

Young Roddy McDowall, the 12-year-old English actor whose ascent to stardom has been spectacular, portrays the role of young Huw—shy, impressionable and courageous, full of faith and hope.

A carefully chosen supporting cast includes John Loder as Ianto, one of the Morgan sons, Sara Allgood as the liveable mother, Betty Fitzgerald as Cyfartha, one of the villagers, and Patric Knowles in the role of Ivor, another of the Morgan sons.

An almost unbelievable amount of money and labor has gone into the production of "How Green Was My Valley." 20th Century-Fox created a replica of a Welsh village, the most elaborate and costly of its kind in the studio's history.

The musical background of the film has caused considerable comment. Faithfully the orchestra under the able musical direction of Alfred Newman has integrated the charmingly haunting melodies that play such an important part in the lives of the Welsh people. The music has been reproduced from tunes never before recorded and presented a difficult task to the producers of the picture.

Director John Ford is responsible for welding the film together into a dramatic unity that is a tribute to the great novel of a simple people. Philip Dunne wrote the original screen play.

Thriller Opens Sunday, Rialto

'Dangerously They Live' Features John Garfield

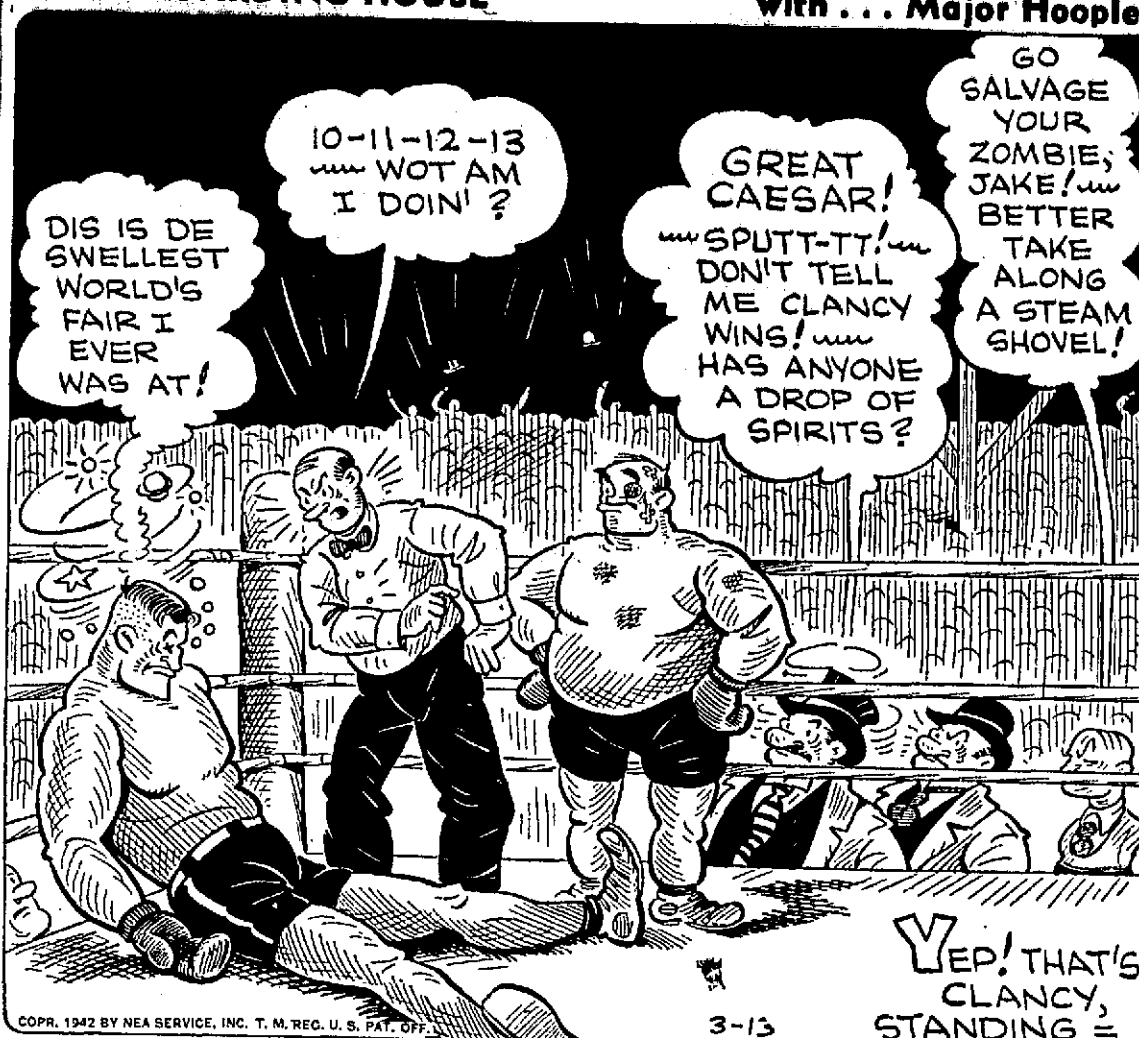

"Dangerously They Live," starring John Garfield, Nancy Coleman and Raymond Massey, has been scheduled by the Rialto theater as its next feature attraction, to open on Sunday. The new Warner Bros. picture is a timely and exciting tale of a hero and his girl who go "all out" for Uncle Sam.

The girl and boy who get involved in the activities of an enemy spy ring, are played by Nancy Coleman, Warner Bros. newest dramatic "find," and John Garfield, one of the screen's most talented young stars. Pitted against them are Raymond Massey, as a brilliant and famous psychiatrist, and Moroni Olsen, as a wealthy business man, both of whom are working for the Fifth Column, in this country.

The secretary at the British Export Bureau is kidnapped by members of the spy ring, who want to get information on when and where a fleet of ships laden with cargo for Great Britain are to meet their protective convoy. The girl manages to escape from her captors by jumping out of a cab. She is injured and taken to the hospital. She tells her story to a sympathetic young interne, but since she is suffering from a slight brain concussion, and isn't even sure of her
